

"Must see this week: May 9 to 15", 2013, Canadian Art, 9 mai 2013

CANADIANART

<http://www.canadianart.ca/>

Home Openings Must-Sees this Week: May 9 to 15, 2013

An image from Taiyo Matsumoto's 2011 book Sunny

ShareThis  Comments

Openings

Must-Sees this Week: May 9 to 15, 2013

By Canadian Art

POSTED: MAY 9, 2013

There's lots of great shows opening across the country this week. Here's some of our best bets.

MONTREAL

Known for his films on aphasia, which have shown at Tate Modern, Belgian artist Sven Augustij takes on another difficult-to-discuss topic in his project Spectres, which opens at Vox at 5 p.m. on May 10. Spectres aims to investigate Europe's colonial history and its aftermath, and the work on view at Vox specifically looks at the assassination of Patrice Lumumba, Congo's first democratically elected prime minister through photographs, historical objects, audio clips and a feature-length documentary film. Elsewhere in town, Nadine Faraj debuts new watercolours at Galerie Joyce Yahouda and Michael A. Robinson shows at Galerie Antoine Ertaskiran.

For listings of art events across Canada, please visit canadianart.ca/calendar.